Arrington, Nelson Co., Va. Dr. R. V. PIERGE: Sir—Allow me to offer my thanks to you for my good health since using your "Golden Medical Discovery." I was but the shadow of moment's ease; had suffered for years with my stomach and liver, and this spring had a very severe attack of La Grippe, I then commenced using the "Discovery" and my recovery is wonderful. I am forty-five years old, and feel as well and strong as I did when sixteen years old; my sleep is as sound as an infant's.

A BOY'S AWFUL RIDE.

A crowd of three thousand people at a picnic at Neshaminy Falls, Pa., Saturday witnessed an adventure that nearly paralyzed them. Frederick Young, a twelve year old lad, became entaugled in the ropes of a great balloon and was carried up in the air a mile and a-half, and in this awful position he floated for three miles before landing.

The John B. Stetson Mission folks, from Philadelphia, came out to have their annual picnic. Among the numwas Frederick Young, whose home is at No. 2958 north Sixth street, Philadel-phia. The big feature of the day was a balloon ascension that came off at three o'clock. Everybody gathered to see William Trainer, the aeronaut, take his trip through the air. He had a parachute attached to the air ship, and proposed to take a flying leap. A large number of boys and men were helping to hold down the balloon when it was being prepared to ascend. Little Fred Young was the most eager of these. Suddenly there was a swaying motion of the great silk bag that was filled with bot air, and up it shot. Those around it were all free except Trainer and the Young lad. The latter's feet had be come entangled in the ropes, and he was dragged upward with the balloon. When the ropes and basket and parachute got into position upon the tree tops the boy found himself dangling below the balloon, but above the para-

Trainer was clinging to the parachute trapeze. He realized the lad's peril and shouted instructions to him as to how to hold on. The great crowd below stood mute at the thrilling sight. Higher and higer soared the balloon, and the people could see the unfortunate boy cautiously trying to get a firm foot-hold upon the parachute, This he seemed to secure, for he quickly set-tled so closely upon the top of it that he could not be seen by the crowd be-low. Up went the balloon higher and higher, and those on the ground feared higher, and those on the ground feared every instant that the lad would grow dizzy and let go his hold. But he did not. Trainer kept shouting cheeringly to him all the while, but his words could not he heard by the picnic party in the woods.

The helloop seiled farther and farther

The balloon sailed farther and farther away, and seemed to grow small to the anxious gazer below. It floated out toward Langhorne, and was, Trainer says, a mile and a-half from the ground at one time. Then it began slowly to settle, as the hot sir within it cooled. Gradually it sank, but still floated before the breeze. Lower it got, and Frederick Young's heart leaped with joy when it got down to the level of the tree tops, and the next instant they away, and seemed to grow small to the anxious gazer below. It floated out totree tops, and the next instant they alighted in a wheat field. This was Except a dreadful fright and a wrenched ankle, where he was caaght by the ropes, the lad was uninjured. As quickly as he could, he came back to his place and returned to the city with his friends. Of course, he was the hero of the nomeward journey.

"Many of the citizens of Rainsville. Indiana, are never without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house," says Jacob Brown, the leading merchant of the place. This remedy has proven of so much value for colds, croup and whooping cough in children that few mothers who know its worth are willing to be without it. For sale by L. Stabler & Co.

A False Diagnosis.

La Grippe is confounded by many persons with a severe attack of catarrh, which in some respects resembles the former. The individ-uals suffer severely with pain about the forc-head, eyes and ears, with soreness in throat and stoppage of the masal passages, and in fact, are incapacitated for work of any kind for days at a time. These are catarrhal sufferers. Ely's Cream Balm has been used with the best results in such cases. The remedy will give instant relief.
